Challenge your students to master the basics of investing, saving, and smart decision-making. Use these hands-on lessons to prepare your students to be college and career-ready after graduation. These materials were written based on real-world concepts, allowing teachers to present them in a manner that reinforces learning through practice, so that your students can side-step bad credit reports, outrageous loan debt, and inadequate savings for retirement.

Learn from the millionaires. They didn't win the lottery, but how did they do it? What characteristics do they share?

Take home activities, lessons, and dozens of concrete, relevant ideas to share with your students.

There is no cost to attend this workshop.
