Opportunity Identification and Start-up Options

This two-hour workshop is designed for those interested in exploring how to identify an entrepreneurial opportunity and what form of business organization to choose in order to pursue that opportunity. This is an excellent introduction for first-time, aspiring entrepreneurs.

Course Objectives: By the end of this workshop, participants should understand where and how to find entrepreneurial opportunities, what is the difference between low/no-tech ventures and high-tech, high-growth ventures, what is a reasonable market size to warrant a startup, what is the trinity of management, and what forms of organizational structure are most appropriate, depending on the goals of the entrepreneur.

Who Can Benefit: The workshop is specifically designed for aspiring entrepreneurs of all types. Those who will benefit most have had little or no business education, but who must learn essential business concepts to avoid common mistakes.
