Faith-Based Community Economic Development Summit

Tuesday, December 6, 2011

8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Alabama State University Dunn-Oliver
Acadome Banquet Room
1595 Robert C. Hatch Drive
Montgomery, Alabama

Alabama State University College of Business Administration Small Business Development Center, Center for Entrepreneurship, Innovation & Change and the City of Montgomery have partnered together to host a Faith-Based Community Economic Development Summit for pastors, lay persons and other community leaders on Tuesday, December 6, 2011 at the Dunn-Oliver Acadome.

The summit will introduce participants to the concept of community economic development and how to develop programs that meet local needs. Summit participants will have a valuable opportunity to meet and network with a series of effective leaders in their community who are committed to economic recovery.

The speakers and presenters are:

- Dr. Rev. Marvin A. Moss – One of America's most influential religious leaders, a civil leader and highly sought-after public speaker
- Dr. Rev. Oscar King - Former executive director of the Detroit Neighborhood and Family Initiative (DNFI) and also is a former United States Federal Foreclosure Commission for the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)
- Christian Clamp, Ph.D—Director PhD. Program Community Economic Development School of Liberal Arts Southern New Hampshire University
- T.David Reese, Ph.D—Assistant Professor of Finance and Economics School of Business & Public Affairs College of Coastal Georgia.
